RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Newspaper proprietors generally, and especially of this sty, under the unages and regulations bereiofore prevaling are called upon to perform more labor without remuneration, than any other class of community. The gratuitous publication of charity and religious advertisement, and communications, tributes of respect, obituaries, &c. &c., which can only be inserted at a heavy cost to the proprietor, im-poses upon them a burden so onerous, that they feel called upon, in self-defence, to check the nause, by making such publications a charge, to some extent at least, upon the par-ties more unmediately interested. In this they are but foltowing the example of the press in other cities, impelled by a sense of its intrinsic propriety, and imperative duty to themselves. The subscribers have, therefore, united together in a mutual agreement, upon the la lowing specified terms or the publication of these as well as every sort of regular business advertising.
